

McGraw Will Have Hard Row to Hoe if Winters and Jones, Rookie Pitchers, Fail to Meet Major League Test

MUCH DEPENDS ON WINTERS AND JONES

McGraw Banks Heavily on Colt Pitchers—Resume Series With Red Sox To-day.

By FREDERICK G. LIEB.

Special Dispatch to The Sun.
GAINESVILLE, Fla., April 6.—(By wire.)—The McGraws returned to Gainesville to-day for the first time since they left for New York to play the local university grounds to-morrow and Tuesday. There is no denying that the Red Sox have been quite a bumping series, but the McGraws are not worried. While the New York players naturally expected strong resistance from the world's champions, they did not look for the manhandling they received.

"If the games with Boston reveal any particular weakness in the Giants such as they will be a good thing, for they will enable a hard row to hoe in the machine before the championship season begins. It is also foolish to make too much of training camp defeats. Last year the Giants played the Cleveland Americans in New Orleans, the Giants were trounced 10 to 0 and gave as bad an exhibition as the one in Tampa. The McGraws are not worried by the results of their first National League game, for the regular season started.

The redeeming feature of the two games played so far has been the pitching of the McGraw youngsters, Jesse Winters and John Paul Jones. Neither ever had faced major league players outside of the Giants, and they were not stacked up against the world's champions. Both youngsters did unusually well. They have unquestionable natural ability, but are lacking in experience. If they come through the chances of the McGraws are as good as any in the league, but if they fail in the real test McGraw will have a hard row to hoe.

In their games played so far the Red Sox seem much further advanced than the Giants. This was not noticeable in the practice games played here, but it surely showed itself when the New York players were pitted against real opposition. The Boston infield has been playing rings around the veteran Giant quartet.

To-morrow's game between the Giants and the Red Sox will be occasion for a local holiday. The town is all set over the affair. The two New York teams seem to have spurred the local burghers on and they are all the more anxious that the McGraws should win.

"If you don't win it won't be because you will be lacking any help from the stands," said Charley Harris, the town crooner, who played with McGraw in Baltimore and was instrumental in bringing the Giants to Gainesville. Many of the Gainesville citizens seem to think that the McGraws will test to-morrow and that whether or not the Giants return to Gainesville next spring will depend on the size of the crowd.

"If the size of the crowd will have anything to do with bringing McGraw back the Giants again will be with us next spring," continued the optimistic Harris. "We'll have 5,000 persons out to the contest."

John Porter doesn't know where Harris and Harris don't know where Porter is. No question that the entire town will close shop to-morrow afternoon and get as near to the game as will be possible.

Another Invitation.
While the McGraws are in Tampa, the Mayor of St. Petersburg invited McGraw to come to his town for the next year. "I think we can get the McGraws next spring," said the Mayor. "McGraw has told me that he will be in Florida again next spring, but hasn't yet decided at what place he will pitch his ball. But if we keep after him, I think we can arrange it to bring him to St. Petersburg."

Mr. Causey, the Florida boy of the Giants, and Rube Henton, the California southpaw, will likely be sent by McGraw to try their luck against Barrow's team to-morrow night. McGraw has shown in Joe Bush and Sam Jones, though the former has shown little this spring. Barrow figures that the only way to get Bullet Joe in shape is to pitch him.

Cobb Signs Contract, Joins Team Tuesday

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6.—(By wire.)—Cobb signed a contract with the Boston Braves to-day. He will join the team Tuesday. Cobb stated that he will leave Augusta Tuesday to join the Braves at Florence, S. C., where they staged an exhibition game. The Detroit slugger's holdout was not the result of a "breach" with the club, he says, but rather a desire to get a better deal for good and to await the consummation of a business deal in which he was interested.

ONLY ONE WEAKNESS IN DOUGHERTY

Good Substitute for Veteran Daubert Is Biggest Worry of Manager Robinson.

By GEORGE B. UNDERWOOD.

Special Dispatch to The Sun.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 6.—Though the signs that one picks up along the spring training camp trail often prove misleading when the whirl of the championship race is on, two weeks' close scrutiny of the Dodgers as presented in the exhibition games played here, yet stacked up against the world's champions both youngsters did unusually well. They have unquestionable natural ability, but are lacking in experience. ## GOULET OUTRIDES FIELD OF CYCLISTS

Goulet got a great ovation. He won in a stirring finish from Eddie Madden, Reggie McNamara, George Chapman and Frank Kramer.

Goulet also rode a good race in the one mile open, in which he finished a half length behind Arthur Spencer, the Toronto boy, who was in the United States army for about six months.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SHADOWS IN ALL SPHERE'S OF SPORT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 6.—Two weeks of work here have left the Yankees almost ready to open the season. In their victory over the Dodgers yesterday the New Yorks played a finished and powerful variety of baseball, which will be improved by at least 20 per cent. when Frank Baker joins the club. Aaron Ward is not one of the best third sackers and thinkers in the game and especially yesterday showed a costly tendency to go to sleep off first base. Ward was nipped off first twice in succession. But the club had enough hitting efficiency to make up for this and other little shortcomings that cropped up.

Because some of the men are slow starters the Yankees still retain some of that lamentable proneness to hit into double plays, a tendency that was no mean factor in their overwhelming defeat by the Dodgers last Thursday. But taken all in all, particularly when you consider the fact that the Brooklyn pitchers are ready to open the season and that Olson and O'Mara have been exceeding themselves in the field, the Yankees shaped up as a mighty strong ball club. In their game with the Dodgers yesterday the New York pitchers are going strong and with another week will be just about right. Thormahlen looked particularly good yesterday, as his low ball and his slow ball had the Dodgers all at sea. The Jersey City youngster is a little under weight because of an attack of the "flu" and is not as strong as he would like to be, but he is getting there gradually and unless he is grossly mistaken will be one of the real stars of the American League this year.

Jack Dunn said, when Thormahlen and Babe Ruth went up, that Thormahlen was the better pitcher. For a while Ruth had the edge, but this year Thormahlen is likely to prove Dunn as great an expert on pitching as he is a salesman of ball players.

Huggins Talks, but Does Not Claim the Pennant.

Next Saturday the Yankees will pack their grips and make ready for the road. Many of the players will go to Dover Hall to fish over Sunday and on Monday the road work with the Dodgers will be started in Brunswick, Ga. On the eve of the final week of work Miller Huggins was asked to-night what he proposed to do with his spare talent. A report had arisen that Elmer Miller had been released to Toledo.

"Such stories are not true," said Huggins. "If anybody knows where any of the new men are going he knows more than either I or Col. Huston. It is no indication of the change I have made in my mind. I have a young man, Kane is a new man, who needs thorough trial, and I have a youngster who needs a lot of drilling in outfield work. There is no telling who will stay and who will go. It may be that I will hold on to as many as six outfielders, counting O'Doul as one of them. That would mean keeping Lewis, Bodie, Halas and three men from among Kane, Vick, Miller and Huggins. Kane and Brady, it is a good thing to have both, and as he fortifies us in two departments the chances favor him. But you just take my word for it that it is all conjecture. I absolutely am not decided about any of the men who are not regulars. Halas, of course, I regard as a regular. All I can say is that the club looks decidedly good."

"The men looked a little off last Thursday because their arms are not yet in shape, but that will come within the next week. Pipp's arm in particular is a bit off, but he had the same trouble last spring and got his full strength the first day we hit the road. But for heaven's sake don't let New York that I claim the pennant. The American League is not the kind of a circuit in which any manager can make that claim in April. I expect that the Yankees will present a stronger fielding front against Brooklyn in the fifth game of the series here on Tuesday. The series is even now, at the moment. On Tuesday I will bench Ward in favor of Wilson Fawcett, who is about as good as any pitcher I have. But you just take my word for it that it is all conjecture. I absolutely am not decided about any of the men who are not regulars. Halas, of course, I regard as a regular. All I can say is that the club looks decidedly good."

Bodie Pats a Lot of "Pep" Into the Yankees. As is usual on Sundays this was a day of rest in the Yankee camp. And let it not be said that the players were sorry. Most of the men are down to playing weight and in topnotch condition, and while they are mighty anxious to hear the starting bell at the Polo Grounds they are not over strong for the practice stuff at South Side Park. Ping Bodie in particular looks good. He is a real ball player and he has the same old story, "I like the way, is a better ball player than he gets credit for being and is not the butt of as many jokes as some of the reports might make him out to be. He is the most cheerful and optimistic player in the squad. Bodie keeps telling his mates that the Yankees have the pennant cinched and they have come to take his word for it."

Bodie supplies a lot of much needed jazz in the club. The Yankees are a bit off, but he had the same trouble last spring and got his full strength the first day we hit the road. But for heaven's sake don't let New York that I claim the pennant. The American League is not the kind of a circuit in which any manager can make that claim in April. ## YOUTHFUL HARRIER WINS BRONX CHASE

Fetzer of Mohawk A. C. Leads Field of 70 Athletes to Tape in Macomb's A. C. Run.

William Fetzer, the youthful athlete of the Mohawk Athletic Club, who started his running career two months ago yesterday won the four and a half mile novice road race of the Macomb's Athletic Club over the club's regular course in the Bronx. Fetzer, who is only 18 years, defeated the largest field of runners that have taken part in a road race this season. Seventy runners competed. Of this number fifty-six finished.

The Mohawk athlete, who won his first race two weeks ago when he captured the handicap Bronx Athletic League run, ran a corking race. Fetzer took the lead soon after the mile mark and was never again threatened. He was a steady runner and was about 100 yards over A. Pokring of the Morningglades. Pokring pulled up from seventh position in second place in the half mile. Had the race been a half mile longer, Pokring, no doubt, would have been returned the winner. The winner was clocked in 29 minutes 18 seconds.

The team prize went to the Morningglades athletes, who returned the low score of 37 points. The St. Ann's runners were second with 52 and the Brooklyn A. A. Harriers third with 75. The order of finish:

Name and club.	Time
A. Pomeroy, Morningtide A. C.	29:18
J. Baker, Brooklyn A. A.	29:20
